West Germany's Lower House Votes To Rearm

Ike To Meet Russians Half Way

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower raised a question yesterday about the sincerity of Soviet peace talk. No overtures have reached him through proper channels, he said.

Kremlin expressions of an intention to seek peaceful settlement of cold war issues, now that the Russian regime has changed, the President said, are just as welcome as they are sincere.

To that comment at the opening of his fourth presidential news conference, Eisenhower quickly added that there is a direct relationship between our attitude and the Soviet sincerity.

The Russians will never be met less than half way, Eisenhower said, because this administration's purpose will always be to seek peace by every honorable and decent means. We will do anything that will be promising of results in that direction, he said.

The President saw no new threat of his recent Soviet attacks on Allied planes. Serious as they are, he said, there seems to be no pattern to them, no difference of intention, no departure from the attitude of the past.

Later on, Eisenhower's special assistant on cold war planning, C. D. Jackson, told White House newsmen he certainly questions the sincerity of Russian peace talks.

As for taking steps in the United Nations to brand Russia a supporter of aggression in Korea, as proposed by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), President Eisenhower said he never would tolerate any infringement on American rights but neither would he want to do anything unnecessarily provocative at this moment.

And incidentally, the President added, he considers it war in Korea rather than a police action, as former President Truman described it.

The President deprecated any investigation of Communism in churches, spoke out again in favor of bringing a balanced budget into view before taxes are cut, and defended his choice of Charles E. Bohlen as ambassador to Moscow.

On a variety of other subjects, the President said:

Military power—No amount of military force can give real security. He doesn't think we can afford at this time to slash the total of our combat strength, although he hopes to get more strength with less money by reducing overhead and duplication.

Civil and air defense—A report on the question of more spending for these, drafted by a committee named by President Truman, is under staff consideration.

Economy—Secretary Weeks' estimate that the Commerce Department, for the year starting July 1, can be pared 15 per cent is an encouraging sign. He doesn't expect all departments to have the same degree of success.

Government jobs—There is no reason why any great number of government employees should have the slightest concern about their jobs. All the administration has been talking about so far is getting its own people in policymaking jobs.

U.N. Rejects Mrs. Pandit For Secretary

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council last night turned down Russia's latest candidate for secretary general of the United Nations, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi, Pandit of India.

A communique, issued at the end of a five-hour closed session, announced that Mrs. Pandit, sister of India's Prime Minister Nehru, received only two affirmative votes out of the council's 11.

Seven votes are required for approval. One delegate, reported to be Nationalist China, voted against her and eight others abstained. The balloting was secret.

The two votes for Mrs. Pandit were reported to have been cast by Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin and Lebanese Delegate Charles A. Malik.

Zorin Dooms Chances Of Peace Talks

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin charged yesterday that the United States has slandered Russia by asking for action in the U. N. disarmament debate to demonstrate that the Kremlin really wants peace.

He told the U. N.'s 60-nation Political Committee that Russia had demonstrated her desire for peace repeatedly in the seven-year-old talks on disarmament and atomic control and would continue to do so.

For this reason, he said, the questions U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross asked Wednesday about Russia's intentions were artificial.

"The preservation of peace and the struggle against a new war has been and is the main concern of the Soviet Union," Zorin said.

His answer, made within 24 hours after Gross challenged the Russians to show their sincerity, convinced Western delegates that there was no break in the offing in the deadlock on disarmament despite the change in the U. S. and USSR leaders.

Gross said Thursday that Prime Minister Georgi M. Malenkov had referred to his peaceful intentions and aims. He asked the Soviet delegate two questions and said he wanted them answered after full consideration by the Soviet government.

Two Killed When Plane Plunges Into Main Street

Trumansburg, N. Y. (AP)—A plane ploughed into the main street here yesterday, killing both occupants, one a General Mills vice president and the other an employee of the firm.

No residents were injured and no buildings were damaged when the plane spun into the street, about a block from the heart of the village.

The victims were identified as Harry S. Crosby, 48, of Long Lake, Minn., a vice president of General Mills, and Leroy Jamison, 42, of Minneapolis, an employee.

The men had been in Buffalo on business and left Buffalo Airport for New York City around noon.

33 Men Killed In Crashes Of Two Air Force Bombers

St. John's, Nfld., (AP)—The loss of a U. S. Air Force B-29 bomber off Western Newfoundland was announced yesterday even as rescuers searched for any survivors of an RB-36, a bigger American plane which crashed on the east coast less than 300 miles away.

Both went down in murky weather Wednesday, carrying a possible total of 33 men to death. Both were on training flights.

Wreckage of the B-29 Superfortress, which was based at Harmon Field, was found floating in St. George's Bay with no sign that any of its 10 crewmen had survived.

The Air Force did not identify the 10 immediately.

Twenty-three men, including Brig. Gen. Richard E. Ellsworth, 42, of Erie, Pa., were aboard the RB-36 which smashed into a hill-top in the rugged, wooded country about 50 miles northwest of St. John's on a flight back from the Azores to its base at Rapid City, S. D.

At Least 500 Persons Die In Earthquake

Istanbul, Turkey, (AP)—From 500 to 1,000 persons were reported yesterday to have perished in a violent earthquake and fires which laid waste a rich farming and mining region northwest of Balikesir in Western Turkey.

The Interior Ministry announced last night that 300 were listed dead and more bodies were being dragged from fire-blackened ruins in the village of Yenice alone.

With official reports still lacking from Cihan, another hard hit village, two Istanbul newspapers, Hergun and Yeni Gazete, put the death toll at 1,000. Earlier, Red Crescent, the Turkish Red Cross, had estimated the dead at 500 on the basis of incomplete and unconfirmed reports.

Police at Balikesir, 110 miles southwest of Istanbul, the provincial capital of the area, listed 38 confirmed dead at two other towns, Gonen and Manyas.

The shock at 9:07 p.m. Wednesday (2:07 p.m. EST), said by the newspapers to have been the strongest felt in Istanbul in 80 years, caused buildings here to sway and damaged the city's main water line.

But no other damage was reported. The pipeline break left a large section of Istanbul without water.

President Celal Bayar and several leading government officials, ordered emergency relief to the stricken area and set out by motor cars from Ankara for a personal visit to the scene. Ankara is 250 miles east of Balikesir.

U. S. Ambassador George C. McGhee and M. L. Dayton, chief of the U. S. Mutual Security Administration in Turkey, flew to the area by plane from Ankara.

Throughout the quake area of about 10,000 square miles persons fled from buildings and homes when the tremors were felt, and spent the night in open fields.

Yenice, a village of 1,200, Gonen and Cihan form a triangle 30 to 60 miles northwest of Balikesir in the Western Peninsula of Asia Minor, just across the Dardanelles from the World War One battlefield of Gallipoli.

Strong earthquakes frequently are felt in Turkey, particularly in the eastern part. In 1939, a quake destroyed scores of villages in Erzurum Province in Eastern Turkey and the toll was officially put at 30,000.

Other serious disasters were in 1935 when 2,000 were killed in Eastern Turkey and in 1938, 1940, 1942 and 1946 when about 1,000 were killed in each quake.

Reorganization Plan Readied

Washington (AP)—A new reorganization plan, giving the country for the first time a permanent agency for industrial and economic mobilization, is close to completion at the White House. Officials said yesterday President Eisenhower may send it to Congress next week, following up his program for streamlining the Agriculture Department.

The plan calls for merger of the Office of Defense Mobilization, until now viewed as a short-lived emergency agency, with the National Security Resources Board and possibly some other offices.

Shirley Booth, Gary Cooper, DeMille Awarded Top Movie Oscars For 1952

Hollywood handed out its 25th annual "Oscars" last night with an all-star cast on a coast-to-coast radio and television hookup.

Only a few people were surprised by the awards. "Oscars" went to Shirley Booth for "best actress" for her performance in "Come Back, Little Sheba;" to Gary Cooper for "best actor" in "High Noon" and to Cecil B. DeMille for his production of "The Greatest Show On Earth"—best picture of the year, according to the academy.

DeMille—like last year's actor-winner Humphrey Bogart—was the "sentimental choice."

Awards were given to Gloria Grahame for her performance ("best supporting actress") in "The Bad and the Beautiful" and to Anthony Quinn as "best actor" for his role in "Viva Zapata!"

John Ford—whose list of past triumphs includes "The Informer," "Stagecoach" and "The Long Voyage Home"—walked off with his sixth Academy Award for direction of "The Quiet Man."

Both Ford's and Cooper's awards were accepted by long-time popular favorite John

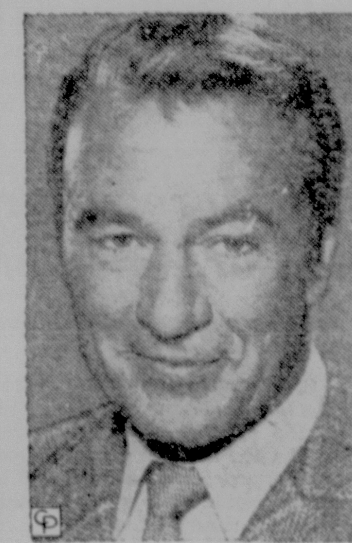

Shirley Booth

Wayne, star of Ford's "Quiet Man."

One of the biggest upset victories went to Britain's T. E. B. Clarke for his "best story and screenplay" for "Alec Guinness" "The Lavender Hill Mob."

Other writing awards went to "best motion picture story—The

Gary Cooper

Greatest Show on Earth" and "best screenplay—Charles Schnee for "The Bad and the Beautiful."

"High Noon" walked off with more individual awards than any other picture in the running. Dmitri Tiomkin took the award for "best score for a dramatic or comedy picture" and for "best song" while the film's editors were cited for their work.

All in all, it was a big night for Hollywood and for the millions of persons who had a second-hand share in all the shouting.

Never before in the history of the awards had so many people had a chance to look through the keyhole at one of the film industry's most sentimental (and sometimes viciously partisan) affairs.

The telecast afforded an excellent opportunity, too, for oldtime moviegoers to take a lingering look at some lingering oldtime (Janet Gaynor) stars.

Hollywood and television had, as Bob Hope said at the beginning, indeed "got married." The fact that Hollywood couldn't afford to finance its own award ceremonies this year had hastened the marriage.

Sometimes, the industry seemed to be saying: "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em." From all indications, it might turn out to be a very wonderful marriage after all.

Two Western Defense Moves Win Approval

Bonn, Germany (AP)—The West German Bundestag (lower house) gave final approval by wide margins last night to the twin treaties under which West Germany is to rearm as a partner of other free European nations for defense against Communist aggression.

It was a victory for the views of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Warned by Adenauer that Stalin's death increased the danger of a new world war, the House approved the European Army Treaty 224-165 and the Allied-Bonn Peace Contract 226-164. There were two abstentions in each case.

Under the European Army Treaty, West Germany is to supply a half million troops to a unified European command of two million that would take in also the troops of France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. In this third and deciding vote, the Bundestag became the first legislative chamber in Europe to ratify the treaty.

The peace contract is the instrument through which the Big Three Western Powers—the United States, Britain and France—renounce most of the rights they have held under the postwar occupation and grant West Germany near sovereignty.

The Bundestag (upper house) still must vote on the pacts and then a court battle looms over the constitutionality of rearming.

But the Bundestag is the popularly-elected house and Adenauer has proclaimed that its vote would be "the political decision on the German people's acceptance of European unity." He won by a sweeping majority, though his supporters fell short of the two-thirds which the anti-rearmament Socialists contend is necessary to give the army treaty constitutional legality.

The Adenauer forces showed a gain of eight votes on each of the treaties since the semi-final tests were held in December. His three-party coalition government held virtually solid.

The negative votes were cast by the Socialists, the Communists, the neutral Centrists and a scattering of Right-Wingers. East German Communists have threatened trouble, including a new squeeze on West Berlin, if the treaties go through. Howling Red demonstrators clashed with police outside Parliament during part of the nine-hour debate yesterday.

But Adenauer insisted West Germany must rearm.

In an address broadcast to the nation, he declared:

"There is still no adequate defense against the threat from the East, against the overwhelming manpower of Soviet Russia. We Germans must rearm and join the European defense community."

Adenauer declared the Russians have 140 Soviet divisions and 70 satellite divisions in Europe and he stressed that "nobody knows what Stalin's successors in the Kremlin will do with them."

Reed Abandons Fight To Force Early House Vote On Tax Cut

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Reed (R-NY) yesterday abandoned his fight to force early House action on his income tax cutting bill with a blast at leaders of his own party for "gaining office under false pretenses."

That was taken generally to include President Eisenhower, who a few hours earlier restated his contention that a balanced budget must be in sight before taxes can be cut.

Reed, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, unloaded a long, blistering attack after Eisenhower, at a news conference, put his foot down against Reed's bill to cut personal income tax rates 10 per cent annually starting June 30.

Reed had announced plans to go over the heads of House leaders and resort to a rarely used special privilege tactic to force his bill to the House floor before April 15.

But that would leave the bill open to amendments. And Reed said yesterday a survey of members has shown so many amendments would be adopted that his bill would be destroyed.

So he plans to force action, but said he will renew pressure on House leaders to bring the bill to a vote under procedure barring floor amendments.

Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.) said there has been "no relaxation" of the stand by House leaders—in line with Eisenhower's—that spending must be cut and a balanced budget must be in sight before tax reduction is considered.

Halleck said there has been "no determination" when leaders will permit the Reed bill to come to a vote under the no-amendments rule. Previously, May 1 to 15 had been mentioned as a likely time, but there were signs of even more delay.

The President, possibly referring to Reed, said you hear a lot of talk about tax reduction first, and then a balanced budget, but he wants to go in the opposite direction.

The 56-year-old former carpenter, one of the Kremlin's most trusted tools, died in the Czech capital Saturday, only five days after he attended the funeral of Prime Minister Stalin, his old friend and protector, in Moscow's Red Square.

Search Crews Find Girls

Shohola — Two lost girls turned up early yesterday in the woods near here. A searching party found them at 3 a.m.

They were Gladys Moran, 14, and Arlene Wilkins, 15, two friends who went for a walk from the Wilkins home at 5 p.m. Wednesday. After taking a new road through the woods and failing to find their way back, they realized they were lost.

Search parties were organized when the girls didn't show up for supper. The two teen-agers said later they saw the flares, and sometimes heard the shouts of the searchers, but couldn't make themselves heard.

One man finally did hear them yelling. He spotted them, then brought the rest of the search party to them. The girls were seated side by side, wearily, on the ground about a mile from home.

They were returned to their homes. The girls didn't go to school yesterday, a relative said. Instead they stayed home to "sleep it off."

American Planes Under Orders To Stay In Bounds

Wiesbaden, Germany, (AP)—Most American military planes in Germany are under orders to keep well away from the Iron Curtain, the U. S. Air Force disclosed yesterday.

All the planes, it announced, are barred from flying within 30 miles of the frontiers of Communist Czechoslovakia, East Germany and the Soviet zone of Austria except on border defense missions or authorized flights in Soviet-recognized corridors.

The announcement clarified confusion over operational policy that became evident after two Czechoslovak MIG15s shot down a U. S. F84 Thunderjet 15 miles inside the West German frontier March 10.

"These regulations have been in effect well over a year," the Air Force said, but were "reaffirmed today."

College Head Asks Probe Of McCarthy

Washington, (AP)—President George N. Shuster of Hunter College said last night the time has come for universities to investigate Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Speaking of McCarthy at a meeting of the National Civil Liberties Clearing House, Shuster said: "I would remind you that the university has always been a forum in the presence of which the lords of the passing hour are subjected to scrutiny."

"No doubt the time has come to ask on what meat this, our Caesar, has fed, and to review his activities with the utmost objectivity, calm and chilly resolution, so that an authoritative report can be made to the people."

Informed of Shuster's remarks, McCarthy commented: "Every Communist, every left-winger in the country has been investigating me. This gentleman is welcome to join the pack if he wants to."

Czechoslovakia Buries Gottwald

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Czechoslovakia buried President Gottwald, her Communist dictator, in the National World War I Liberation Monument on Vitkov Hill in Prague yesterday. His Red aides used the funeral rites as an occasion to call for national unity.

The 56-year-old former carpenter, one of the Kremlin's most trusted tools, died in the Czech capital Saturday, only five days after he attended the funeral of Prime Minister Stalin, his old friend and protector, in Moscow's Red Square.

By official account, Gottwald was a victim of pneumonia and pleurisy. It has not been announced who will succeed him, but Premier Antonin Zapotocky, 68, is the most widely known among possible candidates.

Giving Individuals More Security One Aim Of Those Arguing For New Constitution

By Pete Olywer

The Constitution should give individuals more security than it does at present in Pennsylvania. That's one argument of authorities who want the 80-year-old document revised.

Members of the State Bar Association suggest these additional safeguards:

Counsel should be furnished to the defendants in all cases. This is the practice now in Federal courts, the association points out. This proposal was debated in Pennsylvania more than 30 years ago, but wasn't adopted.

The right to collective bargaining by persons in private employment should be affirmed. (This has been done in New Jersey's revised Constitution.)

In civil cases, jury verdicts by less than a unanimous vote should be allowed.

There are scores of other weak and soft spots in the present Constitution, authorities say. Some are technical and involved. Others are a matter of horse-sense correction.

Miscellaneous changes which have been suggested by authorities in the past 30 years include:

Boundaries of cities and boroughs should be changed only with consent of the residents of the affected territory.

Since Philadelphia is a city and a county at the same time, the county offices may be abolished and their duties imposed on city officers.

Zoning regulations should be declared within the scope of municipal powers.

Two or more municipalities should be permitted to contract for the joint conduct of public enterprises.

And finally — the article on amendment and revision of the Constitution should be clarified and liberalized.

Constitutional revision isn't a new idea. Not even for the present Constitution.

Since 1901 there have been 77 amendments voted upon. Of these, 54 were adopted. Many, according to the bar association committee which studied the matter, were passed in the interests of special groups.

In addition there is uncertainty about the time amendments may be voted on. In one court case it was decided that under Article XVIII the Constitution cannot be amended oftener than once every five years. This could prove embarrassing to the State in emergencies.

Authorities feel the Constitution could be best modernized by a Constitution convention.

Proposals for such a convention have been voted down four times since the present Constitution was adopted 80 years ago—in 1891, 1921, 1924 and 1935.

In theory the legislature alone may call a convention. In practical terms, it is best to first get the consent of the people.

The 1953 legislature is faced with that proposition in Harrisburg right now. What they do about it will depend in part on what the people think and say.

U.N. Deadlocked On Lie Successor

United Nations, N. Y., (AP)—The five big powers in the U. N. Security Council failed Wednesday to break their deadlock over a successor to Secretary General Trygve Lie. Nine new candidates were thrown into the running and Russia was reported making a strong pitch for two leading Indian figures.

In a two-hour secret meeting, the five permanent members of the council exchanged views on the widening field of possible candidates for the $40,000-a-year post — the three already considered by the full council and the nine new ones named yesterday. The five powers are the U. S., Britain, France, Russia and Nationalist China.

It is estimated that one of three office and factory workers need glasses to see properly on their jobs.

Get Down To Earth

The uproar over congressional investigations of Communism is out of hand, and has turned into a verbal battle between extremists on both sides.

Partly this is due to the fact that men who devote the larger part of their energies to fighting Communism and its followers run the risk of becoming as emotional and as unreasonable as the Reds and their blind followers.

It is preposterous, for example, for Rep. Donald Jackson, California Republican, to imply—as he did in the House Tuesday—that anyone who questions the activities of the Committee on Un-American Activities automatically should be suspected of subversive sympathies.

It is equally preposterous for anyone—clergyman or layman—to take the attitude that a Communist who is a clergyman is entitled to a whit more consideration or sympathy than a person who is a member of some other profession.

Rep. Harold Velde, Illinois Republican, the chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee, started this current uproar—perhaps unwittingly—by saying that his committee might investigate Communism in the clergy. Since then the members of his committee have repudiated that statement and passed a resolution forbidding any new investigations not approved by the committee as a whole.

We have not the slightest idea whether Chairman Velde knows of any Communist clergymen in the United States. Nor can we understand how any sincere Christian could be a Communist.

But if there are such clergymen, their calling should give them no special immunity.

On the other hand, it is about time Representative Jackson and those who agree with him were awakened to the fact that their authorization to investigate Communism carried with it no halo of exemption from criticism or from the obligation to conform to traditional American standards of decency and fair play.

The American people want Communism rooted out and exposed, wherever it may be found.

But they expect it to be done in the American way—a way which was proved sound long before there was any such thing as Communism, and which, we believe, will long outlive it.

No Time To Nibble

When the time comes that Congress properly can consider cutting taxes, such proposals as the recent one by Rep. Oliver Bolton, Ohio Republican, to allow deduction of all medical expenses will be in order.

But now, when the Government is in the red and with no immediate hope of getting out of it, any proposal for a tax cut—whatever its merits in normal times—is not in the interest of fiscal stability.

Our present income tax system is not perfect, and may discriminate against certain people and certain groups. But the best thing to do, as most administration leaders have agreed, is to let it stand until we can better see where we stand fiscally.

A balanced budget for the nation is much more important than any minor and temporary fault of the tax system.

The ancient Romans once believed that tin was a variety of lead.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

SPRING COMES TO U.S.

Spring, having the warm approval of most of the world as she comes "laughing down the valley" we can't avoid wondering what the Soviet attitude is. Can the U.S.S.R. join in any agreement that spring is here, and that it should be welcomed? Can the delegates from Russia and her satellites accept the view of fifty-five nations that the vernal season is at hand? We think not.

It is too much to expect that Moscow will concede that April's approach is innocent. The violet, the lilac bud and the peepers in the meadow can get a veto. The swallows' return to Capistrano can meet strenuous opposition from the Kremlin. The first robin can be shot down by Russia for a border violation. (It might even be charged with shooting first.)

It is easy to fancy a U.N. discussion.

Mr. Lodge: Mr. Chairman, I wish to express my appreciation of the end of winter and the advent of the vernal season.

Mr. Gromyko: The gentleman is out of order. Any reference to spring at this session is a clear violation of procedural rules. Spring is not on the agenda, as the whole world knows.

Mr. Lodge: I insist that it is proper to express approval of spring and show a friendly regard for it. This morning I saw a crocus.

Mr. Gromyko: The USSR is the best friend the crocus ever had, but the charter of U.N. does not permit any discussion of the crocus.

Mr. Lodge: I should like to read from a famous opinion on the season, and I quote: Spring, the sweet spring, is the year's pleasant king; Then blows each thing, the maids dance in a ring; Cold doth not sting; the pretty birds do sing— Cuckoo, jug-jug, pu-we, to-witta-woo!

A Polish Delegate: If spring is a king it is out of date and unworthy of mention. Maids dancing in a ring are a proof of the decadent world outside the U.S. S.R. And my government is aware that the last line of that verse constitutes a code message. Jug-jug, pu-we, to-witta-woo!

messages have been constantly intercepted and shown to be a part of the conspiracy against the U.S.S.R. by the warmongers.

Mr. Lodge: As Wordsworth once said: I wandered lonely as a cloud That floats on high o'er vales and hills, When all at once I saw a crowd— A host of golden daffodils. Czechoslovakian Speaker: This is a clear admission of spying in the airplanes. It is an act of aggression to wander in that manner over vales and hills, and shows a contempt for borders.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb: If I may say so, I would like to get on the record the matchless lines of Thomas Gray in which he speaks of the rosy-bosomed hours winking the purple year.

Mr. Gromyko: The rosy-bosomed hours are an invention of Anglo-American ruling circles. Their desire to wake the purple year masks germ warfare. The liberty-loving peaceful people of the world will not be fooled. Etc. (Take it from there.)

We are living in an age when a man feels underprivileged if he has to keep the auto for a second year.

One of the most disturbed fellows we ever saw was an Irishman, who after eighteen hours of St. Patrick's Day parades and bonquets, got word he would have to RETURN to the old country.

Can you remember away back when even a poor man wanted his house to have an upstairs room?

Soviet States have lost two dictators in March and the Kremlin will doubtless declare March an enemy month. . . . Senator Bob Taft's son, William Howard Taft III, will be U.S. Ambassador to Ireland. . . . He speaks Gaelic fluently, has been a student of Ireland since early youth and can even hold up his end in a quartette giving out with "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." . . . a fashion show was held in a Wall Street brokerage office the other day. . . . Feature was, of course, a gown which the wearer can get into on the ground floor. . . . The sketches on the jacket winner and the hotel that took dogs but excluded people gave the last Tabulah TV program a lift. . . . There are so many boxing bouts on video these days that TV fans are advised to go to a neutral channel between rounds. . . . Can you remember away back when you got change from a $10 bill?

It is easy to fancy a U.N. discussion.

Mr. Lodge: Mr. Chairman, I wish to express my appreciation of the end of winter and the advent of the vernal season.

Mr. Gromyko: The gentleman is out of order. Any reference to spring at this session is a clear violation of procedural rules. Spring is not on the agenda, as the whole world knows.

Robert S. Allen Reports Brownell Starts House-Cleaning His Department

Washington — The big exodus is on in the Justice Department. Attorney General Herbert Brownell, simultaneously with his publicized replacing of U. S. Attorneys all over the country, has started an unannounced housecleaning under his own roof.

Marked for ousting are all divisions and branch chiefs, plus 80 or more attorneys in the key Criminal and Anti-Trust Divisions.

The shake-up in the Criminal Division is already in full swing. It's being conducted by Assistant Attorney General Warren Olney, former chief counsel of the California Crime Commission, whom Brownell brought to Washington to head the battered Criminal Division. Olney has a free hand to eliminate anyone from his staff.

Among those already bounced are: Ray Whearty, No. 2 man in the Division, who handled Communist spy prosecutions, including the Judith Coplon case.

Francis Walker, chief of the General Crime Section, who rated as a specialist in mail fraud cases. Fred Strine, leading attorney in the Technical Section, who ranks as an expert in criminal law.

Also Justus Gould and Harold Beaton, other top lawyers in the Criminal Division. Beaton is telling friends he was asked to resign "because I once ran as a Democrat for Congress."

Note: Olney is making a close study of the blistering report from Miami's crime-busting federal grand jury, headed by McGregor Smith, president of the Florida Power & Light Company. The jury scathingly denounced former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

Next in line—The big head-lapping in the Anti-Trust Division is being held up pending appointment of a new boss in the agency.

The job was offered to Judge David Peck of the New York Appellate Court, close friend of Governor Tom Dewey and one-time law partner of Secretary of State Dulles. But Peck turned it down, and Edward P. Hughes, veteran career man, is temporarily running the Division, which employs around 250 attorneys.

Brownell plans to eliminate a number of them plus all section chiefs and the heads of branches of the Division in New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

The delayed shake-up has also stalled anti-trust prosecutions.

So far only one new case has been filed since Brownell became Attorney General two months ago.

Oddly, this suit involves a group of vegetable and food wholesalers in Providence, R. I., home town of former Attorney General, McGrath. They are charged with price-fixing and other monopolistic practices.

Attorneys in the Division have a number of cases they say are ready for court action.

One of them involves leading firms in the electronics industry. This case was started by former Attorney General James McGranery and will be one of the first major decisions that will confront the new head of the Division.

Note: Probably the hardest-working member of the new Justice Department team is Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin, Lincoln, Neb., who handles administrative problems. Indicative of their magnitude is the following thumb-nail description of the Justice Department by Brownell in a speech, "The Department of Justice is the largest law office in the world. It is that and much more. The Attorney General is the federal government's chief legal officer and the United States government is his client. His staff comprises about 30,000 persons throughout the country and its territories."

Tough Job — President Eisenhower has run into an unexpected problem.

It is voracious souvenir hunters and what to do about curbing their ruthless depredations.

Since the President and Mrs. Eisenhower moved into the White House two months ago, light-fingered and unscrupulous pilferers have damaged and stolen thousands of dollars worth of furnishings.

The President has become so concerned about this shocking situation that he discussed it at his latest luncheon meeting with House members.

Representative Thomas B. Curtis (R., Mo.) remarked there appeared to be an increase in the number of White House Guards. "Everywhere I looked," he said, "I noticed a guard."

"And every one of them is needed," replied the President. "If they weren't around, there wouldn't be a thing left in the place after a week. The number and insatiability of souvenir hunters is unbelievable. We have to have these additional guards to preserve the White House."

"President Truman once complained to me about the same thing," said Representative Richard Bolling (D., Mo.). "He said the pilfering was pretty bad."

"He didn't exaggerate," said Eisenhower. "It has me flabbergasted."

Before departing, all the Representatives, foremost among them the Democrats, asked the President to autograph their place cards.

"As you can see, Mr. President," laughed Representative Hugh J. Addison (D., N. J.), "we too are souvenir collectors."

"Yes, but this is legal," grinned the President.

Among those already bounced are: Ray Whearty, No. 2 man in the Division, who handled Communist spy prosecutions, including the Judith Coplon case.

Francis Walker, chief of the General Crime Section, who rated as a specialist in mail fraud cases. Fred Strine, leading attorney in the Technical Section, who ranks as an expert in criminal law.

Also Justus Gould and Harold Beaton, other top lawyers in the Criminal Division. Beaton is telling friends he was asked to resign "because I once ran as a Democrat for Congress."

Note: Olney is making a close study of the blistering report from Miami's crime-busting federal grand jury, headed by McGregor Smith, president of the Florida Power & Light Company. The jury scathingly denounced former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

Next in line—The big head-lapping in the Anti-Trust Division is being held up pending appointment of a new boss in the agency.

The job was offered to Judge David Peck of the New York Appellate Court, close friend of Governor Tom Dewey and one-time law partner of Secretary of State Dulles. But Peck turned it down, and Edward P. Hughes, veteran career man, is temporarily running the Division, which employs around 250 attorneys.

Brownell plans to eliminate a number of them plus all section chiefs and the heads of branches of the Division in New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

The delayed shake-up has also stalled anti-trust prosecutions.

So far only one new case has been filed since Brownell became Attorney General two months ago.

Oddly, this suit involves a group of vegetable and food wholesalers in Providence, R. I., home town of former Attorney General, McGrath. They are charged with price-fixing and other monopolistic practices.

Attorneys in the Division have a number of cases they say are ready for court action.

One of them involves leading firms in the electronics industry. This case was started by former Attorney General James McGranery and will be one of the first major decisions that will confront the new head of the Division.

Note: Probably the hardest-working member of the new Justice Department team is Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin, Lincoln, Neb., who handles administrative problems. Indicative of their magnitude is the following thumb-nail description of the Justice Department by Brownell in a speech, "The Department of Justice is the largest law office in the world. It is that and much more. The Attorney General is the federal government's chief legal officer and the United States government is his client. His staff comprises about 30,000 persons throughout the country and its territories."

Tough Job — President Eisenhower has run into an unexpected problem.

It is voracious souvenir hunters and what to do about curbing their ruthless depredations.

Since the President and Mrs. Eisenhower moved into the White House two months ago, light-fingered and unscrupulous pilferers have damaged and stolen thousands of dollars worth of furnishings.

The President has become so concerned about this shocking situation that he discussed it at his latest luncheon meeting with House members.

Representative Thomas B. Curtis (R., Mo.) remarked there appeared to be an increase in the number of White House Guards. "Everywhere I looked," he said, "I noticed a guard."

"And every one of them is needed," replied the President. "If they weren't around, there wouldn't be a thing left in the place after a week. The number and insatiability of souvenir hunters is unbelievable. We have to have these additional guards to preserve the White House."

"President Truman once complained to me about the same thing," said Representative Richard Bolling (D., Mo.). "He said the pilfering was pretty bad."

"He didn't exaggerate," said Eisenhower. "It has me flabbergasted."

Before departing, all the Representatives, foremost among them the Democrats, asked the President to autograph their place cards.

"As you can see, Mr. President," laughed Representative Hugh J. Addison (D., N. J.), "we too are souvenir collectors."

"Yes, but this is legal," grinned the President.

George Sokolsky Says...

Bureau Of Budget Must Keep Hands Off AEC When It Begins Money Saving Cuts

ATOMIC ENERGY

If there is anything that few know much about, it is atomic energy and what is being done by the Atomic Energy Commission. Who is to place a limitation on the stockpiling of bombs? Who can know how many we shall have to use if the enemy attacks our country? There is no longer a shortage of fissionable materials; yet there are some who suggest that this would be a good time to stop stockpiling. Can anyone guarantee that there will be no shortage should war occur, despite the fact that most of the ores come from the Belgian Congo and Northwest Canada? We can be cut off from the source of supply.

Again, we must face the fact that the next war will not be fought as World War II was fought, just as World War I was fought. The existence of the atom bomb, of guided missiles, of the schnorkel and the atom-driven submarine, of super-sonic airplanes and the wide-spread use of radar, and of many applications of electronics, have changed the techniques of warfare. The foot soldier, the ideal fighting force of the Pentagon, will probably become a small occupying and police force in the wars of the future, just as the horse cavalry began to disappear at the time when Herbert Hoover was President and General Douglas MacArthur was his Chief of Staff.

Therefore, when the Bureau of the Budget seeks to save some

Sportsmen To Oppose Merger Plan

Harrisburg, (AP)—Pennsylvania's organized sportsmen meet here today and Saturday to reinforce their opposition to a proposed merger of the State Fish and Game Commission.

Nearly 200 district delegates began arriving last night for the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's club's biennial session to screen legislation affecting hunters and fishermen.

"I haven't talked to a single dyed-in-the-wool sportsman anywhere in the state who is in favor of the proposed merger," President Joseph H. Barkley, Puxuxawney, told a newsman.

The Federation represents nearly 200,000 Pennsylvania sportsmen in 63 counties.

The Chesterman Economy Committee, appointed by Gov. John S. Fine, recommended that the two commissions be merged with the State Forests and Waters Department. It said an estimated saving of one million dollars a biennium could result.

The question of what type of deer seasons Pennsylvania should hold each year will be another prime topic at the two-day session. Barkley said many of the commonwealth's sportsmen are dissatisfied with the present system of holding special antlerless deer seasons following the regular buck season.

Checks For Dutch Aid Payable To Holland Friends

All donors to needy families in the current Dutch emergency were urged last night to remember one "all-important fact" when mailing their contributions, according to Charles Bensinger, Stroudsburg attorney who is serving as chairman of the local drive.

"When making out checks for use in the emergency," Bensinger said, donors should remember to make the checks payable to "Friends for Holland, Inc." and to no other name or title.

Donors may mail their checks to Bensinger at his office, 70 No. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, but all residents are requested to make them payable Only To The Prescribed Name.

"Friends for Holland, Inc." is a non-profit organization all of whose workers are serving completely without pay.

Physicians To Administer Gamma Globulin, New Polio Weapon, To Exposed Children

Washington, D. C.—The Office of Defense Mobilization has announced a plan for the distribution and use of the new polio weapon gamma globulin, telling the state health officers how the limited supply of gamma globulin might be best employed during the coming polio epidemic season.

To the parent who asks, "How will I get gamma globulin for my child if exposed to polio?" Here is the answer: Contact your family physician. He will examine the circumstances surrounding each case and, if he feels it is warranted, he will obtain the necessary supply of the immune serum from the state health officer and administer it to the exposed child.

The national blood program emphasizes several factors in its announcement of the gamma globulin allocation plan.

Gamma globulin used under very special circumstances, of which the family doctor is aware, will help to minimize the crippling effects of polio; further, one inoculation of gamma globulin will not last a child throughout the entire polio season; gamma globulin will only afford a partial immunity for about five weeks; the polio season extends over a period of approximately ten weeks in the months of June, July, and August.

The Office of Defense Mobilization has notified state public health officers that there will be an available supply, during the coming year, of approximately six to seven million CCs (an average dose is 10 CCs) of gamma globulin for use in the fight against polio in addition to that amount of gamma globulin needed to combat measles and infectious hepatitis.

The initial delivery of this allocation will be made on or about May 1, when each state will receive an amount of the immune serum based on 40 CCs times the average number of cases reported in that state for the five year period 1947 to 1951. The total basic allotment will be on the basis of 40CCs times the number of reported clinically diagnosed cases.

In addition to this initial allocation, further shipments will be made from a national pool when the polio rate in any one state reaches epidemic or an emergency situation within the limits of available supply. The state public health officers will in turn distribute the gamma globulin to family physicians when there is a need. "Many factors involved in getting gamma globulin to the children of our nation this year are as yet uncertain, but one fact stands out in bold relief," ODM announced. "If there is to be anything near a sufficient amount of gamma globulin with which to inoculate children, there must be more blood donated by the people of this nation."

Epl. George F. Custard, East Stroudsburg RD, Takes Part In Atomic Maneuver In Nevada

Cpl. George F. Custard, 37, of Route 2, East Stroudsburg, was one of the specially assigned Army men who participated March 17 in the Atomic Maneuver at Camp Desert Rock, Nev.

He occupied a forward foxhole during the atomic blast and immediately after the blast charged forward in skirmishes to mop up an imaginary enemy theoretically weakened by the A-bomb blast.

Exercise Desert Rock V was a sequel to battalion combat team exercises conducted by the Army and the Atomic Energy Commission at the desert site last Spring, and is a key part of the Army's training program.

Corporal Custard is a member of the Sixth Army operational staff for Desert Rock, where he also assists other troops from all over the country who come to the Mojave Desert for this special combat training.

Cpl. George F. Custard, Sr.

He attended East Stroudsburg High School and was employed by the J. Lawton Huffman Co., Marshalls Creek, before entering the Army in September 1937.

Custard is permanently stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. He and his wife, Helen, have four children.

A veteran of action in the European Theater during World War Two, Custard also took part in the Korean conflict. He was a member of Company G, 109th Infantry Regiment, for about four years before joining the Army.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Custard, he has four brothers and three sisters now living. They are Clinton and Frank M., East Stroudsburg RD2; James, Mrs. Ida Krebs and Mrs. Dellah Mondell, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Pearl Schurlee, in California, and Alvin, Philadelphia.

The report will be filed with the Bureau of Animal Industry in Harrisburg. The Brucellosis tests will be made on a township basis in the near future. Conducted by the State, they will be free of charge.

Indemnity on reactors will be paid to the owners by the State and Federal governments.

Previously, Jackson Township cattle owners signed up and are awaiting the tests.

Heart Specialist Declares Exercise Key To Long Life

New York, (AP)—Exercise is a key to youthfulness and long life, a heart specialist said this week.

Done regularly—for fun, and wisely—it's good for your heart, and against ulcers. It can probably make you feel, look, and act 20 years younger when you're 60.

This medical blessing for exercise came from Dr. Ernst Jokl, German-born, a tennis player at 46 who has made a specialty of studying physical fitness, sports and the heart. He was a medical consultant at the last Olympic Games in Helsinki.

He spoke at a news conference on arrival to head a new department of clinical physiology and rehabilitation at the Valley Forge Heart Institute and Hospital in Fairview Village, Pa.

"The most effective inhibitor (delayer) of aging we have found so far is systematic exercise over a prolonged period," he said.

"Muscular activity, however intense, will never damage a normal heart. There is no such thing as 'heart strain' or 'heart trouble' as the result of athletics per se."

Acreage Forecasts Point To Record Crop Production

Washington, (AP)—A government farm survey indicated yesterday that farmers plan to plant large enough acreages to food, livestock feed, fiber and other crops to produce a record volume this year if weather conditions are favorable.

Because of large reserves of some commodities accumulated from past years and a declining volume of exports, farm officials have appealed for a somewhat smaller crop acreage to help stabilize declining prices.

Last year's crop volume was the second largest of record.

In an annual Spring planting intentions report, the Agriculture Department said it appeared that farmers planned as of March 1 to plant a quota of 271 million acres to 16 Spring crops covered the survey compared with 266,700,000 planted to the same crops last year.

Current plans, which the department pointed out are subject to change before planting time, indicate large acreage increases for all sorghums—used mainly for livestock feed—oats and flaxseed and small increases for Spring wheat, rice potatoes, sweet potatoes, soybeans, hay, sugarbeets, dry beans and peas.

Townships May Lose Road Grant

Eldred and Jackson Townships will lose a total State grant of $5,429.14 for road construction if they fail to take action this year.

The figures are in a State report which shows that only these two townships in Monroe County have failed to take advantage of the matching-fund grants which the State provides each year. The grant has nothing to do with liquid fuels tax money.

There are a few limitations on the grants: the matching funds must come out of the township's general fund. They can't be taken out of any kind of liquid fuels tax grants.

The second limitation — the matching funds will be held over by the State for only one year.

If the money is not used for two years, the grants for both the first and second years are withdrawn. The district then starts the third year from scratch again. The third limitation—the money must be used for construction.

The figures, supplied by the highway department's Allentown office, shows:

Set aside for Jackson in 1952, the sum of $1,418.54; and in 1953 the sum of $1,911.08; total for the two-year period, $3,329.62.

Set aside for Eldred in 1952, the sum of $631.42 (left over from unused funds); and in 1953 the sum of $1,468.10; total for the two-year period, $2,099.52.

If these funds are not used in 1953, the whole amount will be withdrawn.

It is not necessary to match the entire grant. Districts may be given any sum out of the grant which they choose to match.

Remodeling Program Recalls Drug Store's 92-Year History

By James B. Gaffney

Flagler's Drug Store at 611 Main St., Stroudsburg, currently is undergoing extensive remodeling in preparation for a grand reopening.

Howard R. Flagler Jr., proprietor since 1933 when he purchased the store from his uncle, Steward Flagler, anticipates many more changes before the re-opening, not scheduled as yet.

The exterior will be refinished in modern design to conform with the ultra - interior decorations now being installed, but the window elevation will remain. Modern lighting fixtures and the latest display counters will set off the interior's trimmings.

Although most of the changes will be completely modern, the rustic touch still will remain with the hand-carved shelf trim, medicine bottles and metal canisters known to be over 100 years old.

Flagler's uncle purchased the store in 1892 after it operated as a drug retail outlet for 31 years, back to 1861. His father joined his uncle in the enterprise and Howard Flagler and his father, Howard Sr., formed the partnership in 1933. The elder partner died in 1949.

One of the major changes will find the elimination of a soda fountain, with all emphasis now being placed on the drug line.

The proprietor, a native of Stroudsburg, graduated from Stroudsburg High School in 1915 and matriculated at Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, receiving his degree in 1929. He is a member of Kappa Psi fraternity.

His activities include past president of the Stroudsburg High School Alumni Association, past officer of all local Masonic orders, member of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church choir and active in the Community Chorus.

Ann's Dress Shop, 308 Main St., Stroudsburg, concludes business tonight and is scheduled to reopen about April 15 under new ownership.

Operated for the past 17 years by Mrs. Ann Davis Polohovich the woman's shop recently underwent extensive interior and exterior renovations and a parking lot was opened along side the building.

Mrs. Polohovich announced she will continue as owner of the building but her business has been transferred to Mrs. Georgianna Lichtenberg.

The new owner, wife of Glenn Lichtenberg, lives at 206 Clermont Ave., Stroudsburg. She worked for the Murray's Dress Shop, Stroudsburg, for five years. Mrs. Lichtenberg announced yesterday she will continue to handle the same line of merchandise retailed by Ann's Dress Shop.

Mrs. Polohovich, the former Ann Davis before her marriage Feb. 1 in Coaldale, expects to leave this area April 1 for Nesquehoning where she will reside. She conveys her appreciation to customers for their patronage through the years.

Sears-Roebuck and Co. is not in the automotive field entirely, but its Stroudsburg store this week launched a sale of motor scooters. Two American-made and one Italian manufactured scooters comprise the present retail line. The Italian-made "Cruisair" reportedly delivers up to 120 miles on a gallon of gasoline and commands the road with speeds up to 45 miles per hour.

T. Manning Curtis, of Stroudsburg, local zone manager for Investors Diversified Services, Inc., of Minneapolis, won top national recognition for record 1952 sales in this area, according to an announcement yesterday.

Curtis will receive an award for sales and service achievements qualifying him for membership in the IDS group's President's Club. He won the membership in competition with more than 2,200 representatives, it was announced.

J. C. Knowles, Pennsylvania Power and Light's Company's Lehigh division vice president, disclosed yesterday the mailing of the utility's 1952 annual report to more than 76,000 shareholders. The company's 6,600 employees, of whom almost 40 percent are shareowners, also will receive the 36-page report.

In his report PP&L president, Charles E. Oakes points to a new high in revenues of $87,500,000. The total number of kilowatt hours the company was called upon to supply, peak power requirements and number of customers served, also reached new records last year.

Spring Tasks, Arrangements Dominate Local Garden Club

The Monroe County Garden Club brought Springtime along with them to the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the YMCA in the forced shrubs and Spring arrangements on display. Their horticulture program was also geared to Spring tasks in the Garden.

John Meszaros, floriculturist at Pennsylvania State College, was their guest speaker, on the topic "House Plants" which he illustrated with colored slides.

Mrs. A. H. Mathieson had "Back to Earth" as the theme of her talk, stressing cleaning up the garden, plowing, fertilizer, garden planning and care of dahlias. She had prepared a garden schedule for their use and distributed a package of seeds together with a poem, "Package of Seeds" to each member.

Mrs. Elwood Grant, president, opened the meeting with a poem, "Where A Garden Grows" and stressed the importance of establishing a liberty garden this year. The club chorus under the leadership of Mrs. William Michelfelder sang "The Beautiful Potatoes," a song written by Mary Schneider of Swiftwater.

The chorus included Mrs. Mathieson, Mrs. Willis Goddard, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. W. Starnard and Mrs. Andrew Auerbacher. Mrs. William Hannas was accompanist.

Sharing interest with the program were the arrangements and exhibits brought by the members. The officers' table was decorated with a fruit and vegetable print by Mrs. W. R. Erickson, and pink and blue African violets in new candlestick holder for flowers from the Philadelphia show arranged by Mrs. Elmer Kiefer Jr.

The tea table centerpiece had been arranged by Mrs. Ernest Cron and Mrs. Frank Kerr. Other arrangements included: A Spring arrangement of crocus, forced red bud and bluebirds by Mrs. Mathieson; a bouquet of forced bridal wrenth and flowering crab by Mrs. Jay Peters; Spring arrangements by Mrs. Robert W. Irwin and Mrs. Russell Eshback; forced azalea and forsythia by Mrs. A. Starr Phelps; crocuses by Mrs. William Peacock; fruit arrangement by Mrs. W. R. Erickson, and vegetable arrangement by Mrs. Elwood Grant.

Horticultural exhibits included an Angora Bunny ear, exhibited by Mrs. Elwood Grant; materials from Florida by Mrs. Edward Lawson.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Russell Hamblin, roadside chairman, asked members to write in support of House Bills 121, 112 and 114.

The big Spring flower shows were reported on by Mrs. Irving Kiffin and Mrs. Eli Travis for the New York Show, and Mrs. J. H. Lanterman, Mrs. Mathieson and Mrs. Phelps for the Philadelphia Show.

Mrs. M. Howard Williams and Mrs. Lee Crossdale poured. Other hostesses were Mrs. James Coffman, Miss Ellen Hoffman, Mrs. W. R. Starnard, Mrs. Elmer Kiefer Jr., Mrs. O. J. Liljenstein, Mrs. W. R. Erickson, Mrs. Bert Grosbeck, Mrs. S. F. Shiffer, Mrs. Sidney Cohen.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Deep grief or exalted happiness may result from big important things, but in every-day, normal life, it isn't the big things at all, but the little minor things that make the difference between joy and sadness.

A husband criticizing his breakfast eggs, a cool greeting from a friend in a hurry, a misplaced headline can have you dragging around as if you had the weight of the world on your shoulder.

On the other hand, an unexpected card, a greeting from someone anonymous whether it be from someone "named for a well-known rose" or from someone who passed pussy willow cats on an inked-infence just to let you know that Spring is really here—why you go around walking on air and have to stop every once in a while to wonder what it is you're feeling so good about.

Some day, I'm just going to sit down with some penny postcards and put "Thank You" on each one and send them to all the people I have so many reasons to be grateful for. It's a wonderful idea, but the trouble is "some day" never comes.

However, the gardeners and the Business Women must have been doing nice things for each other because there's an atmosphere you can almost feel against your face when you walk in—these people have been having a good time, you say to yourself. And who deserves it more?

—Listen To—
Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Kurt Wimer Speaks At Meeting

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church last night heard Kurt Wimer speak on "The Universal Declaration of Human Rights" of the United Nations.

Patterned on the United States Bill of Rights, eighteen members with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as chairman, worked two full years on the declaration, he said. He concentrated especially on Article 26, dealing with education.

The declaration is not legally but morally binding, he said, and study groups such as the WSCS can influence public opinion to make it more effective. He hailed the declaration as a great advance and prophesied that this would endure no matter what other phases of the United Nations might be lost. It typifies the "age old dream of mankind," he said, "where each is willing to grant something to the other."

Wimer explained the set-up of the United Nations and its functions. The Declaration of Human Rights belongs under the Economic and Social Council.

There was a chart showing the framework of the UN, posters of the Four Freedoms, and a chart of the racial policy of the WSCS. The United Nations flags were used to decorate the tea table and worship center.

During the business session, with Mrs. Sturgis Bogert presiding, several hattributes were presented for the Deaconess Home, and members were asked to bring in old neckties and stockings for supply work. April 22 will be the family night supper, and reception for new members. Circle 7 will serve with Mrs. Charles Fisher as leader.

Last night refreshments were served by Circle 3. Mrs. Levi Merring leader, assisted by Circle 1, Mrs. Evelyn McKibbin, leader.

William Lesh, Historian, And Educator, Is Honored

Scots—A steady stream of visitors during the open house given by his children in celebration of William Lesh's 80th birthday paid tribute to the educator and historian. There were 155 visitors, many of them from South River and Hackettstown, N. J., where Mr. Lesh was school superintendent for many years.

Sharing birthday honors was his granddaughter, Brenda Davies. While Mr. Lesh's birthday actually falls on March 3, the party was held this past Sunday.

Son of the late Stogdell Lesh, who taught in the Monroe County schools for 43 years, William also has taught for most of his adult life, and his daughter, Mary, also taught in Woodstown, N. J., for 14 years, making a total of 101 years for the family.

Second to his interest in teaching is his interest in historical subjects. He has been a member of the Monroe County Historical Society for 25 years. Since 1925, he has devoted much of his time to historical research. He has written histories of the Appenzell Lutheran and Reformed Church, the Tannersville Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Neola Methodist Church which have been published.

Also high in his interests have been his church activities. He has been a local preacher for 52 consecutive years and teaches a Sunday School class at both the Kellersville Methodist Church and the Hamilton Union Sunday School.

He served as a Hamilton Township school director for 1942 to 1949, is a vice president of the Monroe County Historical Society, member of the IOOF since 1899, and the Academy of Political and Social Science, New Jersey State Teachers Association. He is also an honorary member of the South River Rotary Club and the Philo Lodge, F. and A. M., where he was honored last Fall with the presentation of a jewel pin conferred upon him by the Grand Lodge of the State of New Jersey for his 51 years in Freemasonry.

Mr. Lesh was born in Kellersville, where he has resided since his retirement in 1935. He is the son of the late Stogdell and Mary Harps Lesh. He was married for 42 years to the former Minnie Mervine, who died in 1943.

He has three children: Mary, wife of David F. Davis, of Salem, N. J.; Stogdell, of Hazleton, and Dr. Vincent Lesh, Fayetteville, Ark., and four grandchildren.

Mr. Lesh began his education at the old Fairview Academy, Brodheadsville, and taught two years at Polk Valley School before he entered Dickinson College, Carlisle. Graduating from there in 1896, he taught in many local schools: Bushkill, Pocono Lake, Long Pond, Delaware Water Gap and East Bangor.

However, the greater portion of his teaching career was in New Jersey where he taught at Hackettstown for 12 years, Bound Brook, and then South River for 15 years where he was superintendent of schools.

Kindergarten Tots Present 'Circus Days'

Kindergarten pupils at the Laboratory School on the State Teachers College campus, East Stroudsburg, rushed the season a trifle yesterday but came up with an unusual presentation of "Circus Days."

Attired in costumes of circus performers, even animals, the youngsters inaugurated their show with the traditional parade, marching through the corridors at the school. Heading the parade was Betti Blair as majorette.

Returning to their rooms the children performed for parents and first grade pupils while circus music was amplified throughout the program.

John Magrosky, donning a high silk hat, served as chief ringmaster, assisted by Linda Bosman as announcer.

Highlighting the first act was Junior Schubert as the tamer of David Miller and Bonnie Brown, dressed as lions.

Subsequent performers included Jimmy Wilkins, juggler; Marilyn Marsh, trainer and Elsie Van Campen, Tommy Kemp, David Sarsley and Duane Marsh, elephants.

Also, Sally Rushmore and David Stem, snake charmers; Denise France, Charles Buehli, Kenneth Ladlee, Linda Bosman and David Miller, clowns; Susan Moransky, John Kintner, Kathy Ann Hamill and William Zacharias, trapeze artists.

William Zacharias amused the audience as a sword swallower and Linda Hineine, Susan Morris, Sally Rushmore and Lisa McElwain were tight-rope walkers.

Bronwen Lewis acted as a trained seal, with the instructions barked by Junior Schubert. Constance Burus, as ballerina, headed the dancing troupe consisting of Mary Ann Burrows, Linda Bosman, Susan Morris, Carolyn Hannon and Linda Hineine.

John Magrosky was the circus strong man and Betti Blair, David Stem, Danielle Doll, John Magrosky, Carol Hannon, Kathy Ann Hamill and Linda Sebring, were acrobats.

Dale Werkheiser served as trainer for horses played by Barbara Jean Lockard, Russell Cramer, Donnie Setzer, Gretchen Knox, Gerald Batchler and Mary Jane Noble. Kenneth Cruse and Tim Uhl were cowboys and Judith Ann Cruse, cowgirl to the act preceding the finale. Unable to attend were Bobby Lambert and Maurice Long.

Miss Marie C. Brown, supervisor of the kindergarten, headed the arrangement group, assisted by Mrs. Barbara Smith, Miss Mary Ann Hanza and Miss Lucille Dougherty, student teachers.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Stroudsburg High's chances of repeating as baseball title holder in the Lehigh Valley League depends greatly on the condition of Floyd "Willie" Williams, hard hitting first sacker. Williams suffered a broken leg in football and is now having trouble with the same foot. The Stroudsburg first baseman, who is now playing his fourth year on the varsity, will know more about the injury after an examination today. The foot becomes swollen and blue during running exercises.

Moving the bleachers off the infield at Gordon Giffels field is going to be a tough job and it may be some time before the actual work is begun, much less completed. I wonder why the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg baseball game couldn't be played on Saturday, May 2. According to the original schedules released recently, East Stroudsburg has an open date on Friday, May 1, and Stroudsburg had Tuesday, May 5 as its open date. One of the stumbling blocks in scheduling the game is that East Stroudsburg doesn't want to play three games a week.

Holding the game on May 2 would make the schedule balance so that neither team would be required to play three times within the space of seven days. Harold Newman, well known in local athletic circles, spent much of his European trip at sporting events, as most of us would expect. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association officials, and a resident of 299 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg, is expected home today following a meeting of the National Basketball Rules Committee in Kansas City this week.

Those local businesses that were either reluctant to purchase tickets for today's Varsity "S" show or outright refused to buy tickets, should hang their heads in shame. All proceeds from the "Past Times Review" benefit athletes of Stroudsburg High and in so doing play a terrific part in combating juvenile delinquency. This show is not only entertaining, but it makes the Varsity "S" show possible.

Clara Lou Harl and Jane Ann Marshall sold tickets for the show in front of the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday, under the most talked about sign in town. The sign, advertising the show, was made by Bob Logan, local artist. Today at noon a regular promotion job will take place at the same spot. The Stroudsburg drum and bugle corps will march to that spot from school and Max Merkle will play the accordion. This will be the last public sale of tickets, except for those sold at the door tonight.

Most of the costumes to be used in tonight's "Past Times Review" have been made by Miss Mary Hall and the Stroudsburg High Home Economics Department. Advance billings indicate this year's show is one that we can't miss, and is slated to get under way at 8 p. m. The program even features a door prize. Ida Whitman's name was erroneously omitted from the list of local women who bowled in the singles division of the New York tournament last weekend. Ida was tops in the singles division, with games of 188, 188 and 165, for a 541 total, plus a 108 handicap. Complete tabulations bring the total to 649.

Harry Schaeffer, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and a former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos, turned in his best showing of the Spring for the New York Yankees yesterday. Schaeffer, who divides his home address between Reading and Shillington, toiled four hitless and runless innings against the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, as the Yanks won, 3-1. Harry has been in action only one other time this Spring, that being against the Boston Red Sox on Monday, March 9. In his first outing Schaeffer gave up five hits and three runs in three innings, while walking one and fanning the same number of batters.

California Ace Leads Scoring For Teachers

Johnstown—James Kennedy of California, Pa., Teachers lead the scorers in the two-year-old Pennsylvania State Teachers College Basketball Conference whose season came to a close last week, with Bloomsburg nosing out California for the title.

Kennedy set the scoring pace throughout the season with an average of 29.7 points per game. He shared honors with McClelland of Shippensburg in setting the high one-game total of 42 points. Kennedy's 42 points against Millersville practically eliminated the Millersville from the race. McClelland scored 42 points against Kutztown.

Second—Ralph Cocoviera of Kutztown and Merritt of Mansfield were second best in scoring averages with 22 points per game. Scoring more than 125 points in the 14-team circuit were:

John Sloan, high scoring East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, failed to make the select list as he tallied only 117 points against conference foes. Joe Maioriello and Ray Kase-man, next in line, scored 71 and 67 points respectively for the Warriors in conference games.

Scoring list follows:

Elimination Court Tourney Set For YMCA

Pairings Listed For Opening Round Action

An elimination basketball tournament will be held at the Monroe County YMCA beginning on Monday, it was decided last night, after only seven entries had registered in each of the junior and senior divisions. There will be no Gold Medal Tournament this year, as it takes eight teams in each division to make a tournament of this type possible.

Pairings for the tournament and a list of prizes were decided on at a meeting of the tournament committee last night.

The senior division includes DeVivo's Shoemen and Biggs' Restaurant, the two seeded teams, in addition to Frailey's Insurance, Wagner's Garage, Newman's Dress Shop, Jack's Market and Frank's Barbers.

Junior division clubs are Harold's Atlantic, Mt. Pocono Diner, Newman's Dress Shop, Sherman Theater, Turner's Meat Market, Pocono Manor Service Station and Cypher's Service Station. Newman's and Pocono Manor Service Station are the seeded teams in this bracket.

DeVivo's Shoemen and Frailey's Insurance clash in the opening game of the tournament on Monday, at 7:15 p.m., while Harold's Atlantic and Mt. Pocono Diner meet at 8:30 p.m. Both games will be played on the YMCA court.

Limit Placed On Field Of Starters To Take Part In Annual Shawnee Inn Golf Tournament

Shawnee-on-Delaware — The 30th annual Shawnee Inn golf tournament, to be played over the Shawnee Inn and Country Club course here May 7, 8, 9, and 10, will be limited to 152 starters. It was announced by head professional Harry Obitz, tournament director.

Obitz has just returned from a several months tour of golf and country clubs throughout the nation. He reports that requests from players in all parts of the country for invitations to the Shawnee tournament is the heaviest in years.

Warriors Drill For Diamond Campaign

A total of 65 candidates reported to Coach George Ockershausen for the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College baseball team this spring, but only 22 are currently working out regularly.

Ockershausen, in order to weld the squad into workable shape, named 22 men he knew he wanted to report each day. The other 43 candidates report only when instructed to do so by the coach.

Class schedules, cold weather and a soggy field presents Ockershausen with his usual spring problems. The ESSTC mentor is toying with the idea of holding at least two practices each week after supper in order that all his candidates may get at least two workouts a week.

The team practices outside every day that weather permits, otherwise the drills are held in the Normal Hill gymnasium.

Names

Included on the list of 22 men are Don Bachtel, catcher; Stan Butcavage, pitcher; Carson Deffenbaugh, catcher; Tom Foley, pitcher and first base; Bill Frear, manager of Pocono A. C., second base; Bob Hartman, first base and outfield; Bill Herring, outfield; Bill Hibbs, second base and pitcher, and Hobart "Hobe" Hutchins, catcher.

The list also features Ray Kase-man, pitcher; Lyle Krall, shortstop; Carman Martucci, third base; Bob Mellman, pitcher and outfield; Joe Myers, catcher, pitcher and third base; Jim Passaro, pitcher, second base and outfield, and Art Schaare, outfield and pitcher.

Also on the roster are Harold Sisco, third base; Charley Shaw, outfield and second base; Bill Shires, third base; Harry Steever, pitcher and outfield; Lloyd Wescoer, a jack of all trades, and Lloyd Woodling, a resident of Reeders, pitcher. Dave Zawatsky, a combination pitcher-first baseman is also on the list.

The Warriors take part in 11 games this year and face a steady diet of practice, except for the Easter vacation, before opening the campaign against Panzer College on Wednesday, April 15. The contest will be played in East Orange, N. J.

Cubs Pound White Sox, 11-3

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs pounded on Tommy Byrne for nine runs in the first four innings and went on to smash the Chicago White Sox, 11-3, yesterday to even the city Spring series at three victories each.

Errors Hurt

The Sox committed four errors in back of Byrne and on offense were bottled up with only four hits off Warren Hacker and the same off Joe Hatten.

The first to accept invitations to play this year were Olin Cerrochi, Bayside, L. I., and Howard Everitt, Atlantic City. Cerrochi won the Invitation last year by defeating Ellis Taylor, Delaware State champion from Wilmington, three and two. Everitt, former Philadelphia amateur and Pennsylvania amateur champion, paired with Bob Babbish, Detroit, to win the 1952 Bill Waite Memorial tournament.

Started in 1912 the Shawnee Invitation is one of the oldest amateur tournaments in the nation. It was played up until 1938 and after a few years layoff was resumed in 1949 when it was won by Ed Meister, of Cleveland. Meister also won the event in 1950. The title passed on to Tom Robbins, Larchmont, N. Y. in 1951.

An 18-hole match play round will determine the 16 who will compete in the match play championship flight. The remainder of the field will be divided into flights of eight each. Prizes will be awarded winners and runners-up in each flight.

Basketball O'Briens Sign To Play Baseball With Pirates

Seattle, (AP)—The famed basketball playing O'Brien twins, Johnny and Eddie of Seattle University, signed baseball contracts yesterday with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pirate officials didn't reveal how much of a bonus they handed out but it was sizable. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer said other clubs bidding for the 22-year-old twins backed away when the Bues hiked their offer to about $80,000.

The signing took place in the Seattle U. gym with school officials, a few fans, sports writers and Pirate Scout Ed McCarrick looking on.

The O'Briens said after the basketball season they didn't want to "see a basketball again." As small men, only five feet nine, they took many a bump in the floor game. Johnny is a shortstop and Eddie a center fielder. Johnny batted .433 for Seattle U. last year and Eddie was just two points behind.

Drop Out
The Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League bid for their services, counting on both their ability and crowd appeal, and offered the promise they could probably play ball regularly all Summer, and not be farmed out. But the Rainiers dropped out of the running Wednesday night.

Vice President R. C. Torrance said at the Palm Springs, Calif., training camp:

Pittsburgh made a tremendous offer. We could not match it." A Pittsburgh representative sat down with the O'Briens in their family kitchen in South Ambey, N. J., during a lull in the Chieftains' eastern basketball tour this Winter. Since then, the Pirates have been conceding the edge in the negotiations.

Ivory hunters from other major league teams were also reported in the running, but the brothers would only say "we're still negotiating."

Yankee Scout Inks Pen Argyl Player

Bangor—Dominic Spagnola, scout for the New York Yankees, announced yesterday the signing of James Robert Miller, a native of Pen Argyl, to a Yankee contract. Olean

The newly signed Miller, a first baseman, played four years of varsity baseball at Pen Argyl High.

Maguire is also commissioner of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Officials.

Other officers re-elected included J. Mark Good, Williamsport, Pa., a member of the executive committee.

Kiner Reports To Training Camp

Havana, Cuba (AP)—Ralph Kiner finally made his long overdue appearance at the Pittsburgh Pirates training camp here last night and reported himself ready to play.

Terms
Kiner agreed to terms with Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey, reportedly at a 20 per cent reduction of his $90,000 salary in 1952. They will go through the formality of actually signing the contract today.

Rules Makers Decide To Keep Basketball's Controversial Free Throw For Another Season

Kansas City (CP)—Basketball rules makers decided yesterday to keep the widely criticized "one and one" free throw regulation for lack of an adequate substitute.

They acknowledged "a lot of people are not satisfied" with the rule but said it would have to do until something better comes along another year, at least.

Thus the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada, which writes the book for colleges, high schools, amateur athletic union, YMCA and Canadian groups, wound up two days of conferences without making a single major change.

This, in itself, is something of an accomplishment since the restless cage fathers have made approximately 3,000 alterations since Dr. James A. Naismith tacked up his original 14 rules back in the 1890's.

The "one and one," adopted a year ago amid considerable misgivings, stipulates that the victim of a common foul gets two chances to make one basket until the last three minutes of the game when he gets two shots with a chance to make good.

Common Foul

The common foul is one committed not in the act of shooting and until a year ago brought only a one-shot penalty. A foul on a shooter provides two free throws.

H. V. Porter of Chicago, secretary of the committee, said the group felt there ought to be a better rule but in the absence of a desirable substitute decided to let the present regulation rock along and "see how it jells."

Several compromises were offered. One would call for one shot to count points, the same as a field goal. Another would permit two free throws on all common fouls with the team required to attempt both. Numerous other proposals dealt with softening the penalty for an offensive foul, with returning to the center jump after a foul is made, etc.

Schaeffer Hurls Hitless Ball For Four Innings

St. Petersburg, Fla., (CP)—Whitey Ford and rookie Harry Schaeffer pitched hitless ball for the last seven innings yesterday in pacing the World Champion New York Yankees to a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cards' "Vinegar Bend" Mizzell, who hoped to go nine innings, retired in the sixth after giving up six of the Yankees' hits and all of their runs.

Homer

Hank Bauer clouted a 350-foot homer in the first to send the Yanks in front. The Cards evened it in their half on a double by "Red" Schoendienst and Stan Musial's single.

The Yanks collected their winning two runs in the fourth on a single by Gene Woodling and doubles by Gil McDougald and Billy Martin.

Schaeffer, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and a former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos, worked the last four innings and tossed hitless ball. Ford gave up four safeties in the first two frames.

West Palm Beach, Fla., (CP)—Pinchhitter Alvin Clark hit a home run with the bases loaded in the last of the 10th inning yesterday to give the Philadelphia Athletics an 8 to 5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in a Grapefruit League game.

Fourth Blow

Clark's belt off righthander Steve Ridzik was the fourth homer of the day for the Athletics.

Robin Roberts started on the mound for the Phillies and went eight full innings before withdrawing for a pinchhitter in the ninth.
